I was desperately in the need for some solace today, and thanks to Kirsten Agresta Copely I met that desire within the composition Message from the Trees, the artist's latest single.

The Harp is an instrument that has made a huge comeback within the new age music industry lately, and Copely's skills at drawing beautiful and textured musical landscapes from it, is a thing to marvel at.

Here on her latest offering we have a warm performance that drifts in the winds of time, a stunning presentation that is so redolent of the subject matter and fulfils our desires to be at one and within nature again; a guaranteed hit of sublime natural bliss.
