

Light and Darkness

By

Claudio Casanueva

Written by

Steve Sheppard

Claudio Casanueva is flowing into a true purple patch of compositional creation lately, his flow and structures are simply sublime to listen to, his latest manifestation is entitled Light And Darkness and this classy new single has that energy about its presentation.

This 12 minute plus opus has all the hallmarks of a classic new age composition, mixed with a fluent and relevant electronic base added to the mix, one that picks up the composition, weaves with the spoken audio, which all leads to an outcome that is a truly amazing final conclusion to a well-crafted release.