The strings and percussion, and the build and progression on this latest single called Spirit Rising by ZEN Seraphine, are both addictive and urgently compelling, this global pastiche of brilliance is simply stunning, it would be virtually impossible to keep still whilst listening to it.

The beat and very soul of this composition is so beautifully crafted, it is a joy to listen to, ZEN Seraphine has manifested something with a true heartbeat, the slow and purposeful construction is superbly arranged, and the added vocals layer that extra world feel, to what could very well be a massive hit single. If you like rhythm and a global feel to your music, this has to be a must to add to your music collection at all costs.
