Sometimes you need to be in the right energy of the moment to truly get the most out of a song, today I was plum right in the centre spot of that positivity field, and Grant Us Peace would resonate in my world and create a sense of calm and tranquillity like never before.

The gentle and pristine vocals from Haynes were so deeply moving, the chimes, bowls and extremely delicate instrumentation harmonised perfectly with the lyrics of balance and peace, and brought forward one of the most inspiring and uplifting and serene offerings I have heard in this style for quite a few years.
