I could wax lyrically on the artistic qualities of a good morning fog for ages, the pastel nature of this most artistic of nature's gifts is something quite beautiful and mysterious, which indeed is also accurate statement for this solo piano composition by Fawaris, entitled of course, Østmarka - Morning Fog.

The delicate performance here by the artist literally paints us a picture of that moment in time, and we can hover with the mists whilst listening to this truly floating moment of piano magic; the sublime pristine textures are wonderfully crafted, so much so, that it is a veritable water colour of a morning fog in tone and sound and classy piano.
