This is one amazing song to have in your collection created by Kluane Takhini and entitled To Catch Lightning In A Bottle. The production quality and multi-instrumental nature of this track is simply brilliant, and will appeal to many music purists in the world; it also contains the skill set of James Hill on Trumpet.

This single is so fascinating and has so many parts to it; you are riveted to the seat listening to what's going to come next, a lush Trumpet, pertinent percussion, acoustic or electric guitar, or even a symphonic gesture, it's all here, on just over 4 minutes of one of the best contemporary instrumental singles I have heard this year, surely this one must be a big hit for the artist.
