Karen Biehl has a new single on the market and its vibrancy is exciting all in the industry, especially after the huge number one landing of her album Starlight Dreams.

Echoing Canyons is an energetic creation that manifests an extremely passionate performance of a picturesque vista for us all to enjoy.

Biehl has created something quite special here and her presentation leaves the listener walking the ridges of some distant Canyon, in the steaming heat of a barren wilderness.

This short form composition has all the energetic hall marks of a hit single in the making, and her fluent performance within it just emphasises that even further.
