

Still Here

By

Lisa Swerdlow

Written by

Steve Sheppard

I gaze at the art work that comes with this new single from Lisa Swerdlow and I am indeed Still Here; that could easily be me lying on the beach. I must state though that I personally rate this fine full flowing composition as the best performance and creation thus far manifested into the world by the artist.

Swerdlow has emotion, intensity, passion, power, poise and all wrapped up in a happy refrain and that takes some doing. This exciting new offering by the pianist has really taken the bull by the horns; one can only see good things coming from its release into our world, beautiful stuff indeed and colourfully memorable from start to finish.