

Om Tare

By

Chris Gurniak

Written by

Steve Sheppard

Om Tare is a composition I feel I have heard in chant form before, but the inventive twist placed on the composition by flute performer Chris Gurniak is a revelation.

There is a certain vibrancy within her performance that makes this song come alive and Om Tare proves for her to have been a splendid choice to have played.

The light but extremely rhythmic percussion is perfect, giving it an eastern energy, but the flute enables the composition to cross the boundaries, thus making it more accessible for the general listener.

Om Tare by Chris Gurniak is a delightfully fresh and colourfully pulsating arrangement, which fans of both the flute as an instrument, and evocative mantras are going to love.