

My Heart Forever

By

Cadence Spalding

Written by

Steve Sheppard

I found a most pleasant experience would await me this morning as I was due to review the latest single from Cadence Spalding entitled My Heart Forever. This is one splendid song and something akin to a love theme composition and segment you may hear on a film like Lord of the Rings for example.

The empowering symphonic backdrop gave us that lush cinematic film score style, and the vocals of Spalding were similar in texture to Enya, but in my view warmer. I have a feeling that Cadence Spalding will have a big hit on her hands with this one; it certainly is one for me, and without doubt thoroughly recommended.