

Riversong

By

Andrew Stables and Nick Magnus

Written by

Steve Sheppard

From the natural water sound at the start, that flows beautifully into the multi-instrumental nature of the single, then on to that gorgeous symphonic energy that bathes this track with such a level of warmth and cinematic glory, one will find it all too easy to simply float away with this musical moment of majesty.

Riversong by Stables and Magnus is their new single, and in its manifestation they have literally created something has something for everyone within its colourful full flowing boundaries.

The imagery is strong, it has a delicacy that is enhanced by its build and progression, and if anyone from the world of film or TV reads this, I really recommend this composition for a movie or a theme to a show. Here is a song that is truly redolent of the subject matter and one that I urge you to collect for your musical pleasure's at once, it is simply idyllic.